South Bay residents to vote March 14

Tammy Jackson
Staff Reporter

South Bay residents will go to the polls Tuesday and decide whether they will keep incumbent Miriam Smith on the city commission or replace her with political newcomer Willie Styles.

Ms. Smith, 30, and a commissioner since 1989, said she wants to continue to serve the city. She said she is interested in helping to improve the city's tax base.

Ms. Smith is a drop-out prevention teacher/counselor. She received her Bachelor's degree from Florida State University and a Master's degree from NOVA University. She is a member of the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, and she works with the South Bay Girls Club.

Mr. Styles, 47, is employed as a funeral home attendant at Taylor, Smith, West Funeral Home. He said he is seeking election because he is concerned with cleaning up the city. He said he also wants to see the public become more involved in the decision-making of the city. He is also interested in providing a recreation area for youths. Mr. Styles is a 15-year resident of South Bay and a graduate of Lake Shore High School. He attended Broward Community College and he is active with the Boy Scouts.

The 1,159 registered voters in South Bay can cast their votes in the city hall commission chambers from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m.

Also up for re-election were commissioners Michael Jackson and Vice Mayor Basil Anderson, however neither of the commissioners received opposition.

Rites held for 100-year-old Paohokee pioneer

Five weeks shy of her 101st birthday, Blanche Elizabeth Ridgeway Armstrong died Feb. 28 in Fairlax, S.C. Ms. Armstrong and her husband, the late Dr. L.W. "Doc" Armstrong, along with her family, were the first permanent settlers in Paohokee. In 1915 Mrs. Armstrong set foot on the shores of Lake Okeechobee at "East Beach" (known then as Paohokee).

Mrs. Armstrong's husband was the first dentist in the area, and he, along with his father-in-law, began the farming industry in the area and they shipped their produce to northern markets.

Along with a few other families in the area, the Armstrongs started the Methodist Church in Paohokee. Mrs. Armstrong was the first children's Sunday School teacher. She was active in the community, and was the first woman to serve on the city council having been elected in 1952. She also served as clerk on the election board from 1929-1969. Mrs. Armstrong organized and was the first president of the Paohokee High School PTA in 1928. She was also the first president of the Hospital Auxiliary. In 1970, during Paohokee's 50th Anniversary, Dr. and Mrs. Armstrong were elected king and queen of Paohokee.

Mrs. Armstrong leaves to cherish her memories a son, Alvin H.

Armstrong of Brunson, S.C.; son-in-law, Jack A. Phillips of Fairlax, S.C.; step-daughter, Myrtle Johnson of Paohokee; niece, Kathryn Fountain of Paohokee; nine grandchildren; 13 great-grandchildren; and one great-great-grandchild.

Services for Mrs. Armstrong were held Thursday, March 2, 1995, at the First Baptist Church, Fairlax, S.C. Interment was held at Fairlax Cemetery.

Memorial contributions can be made to Chancel Choir, First United Methodist Church, Paohokee.

Paohokee selected as site for youthful offender facility

Tammy Jackson
Staff Reporter

The City of Paohokee learned March 2 that they had been selected as the new site of the youthful offender facility. The maximum-security facility will be for teenagers ages 16-19 who have been adjudicated as adults in the judicial system. According to Paohokee City Manager Ken Schenck, the youths will receive some sort of rehabilitation while they are incarcerated.

Paohokee Mayor Ramon Horata said, "We are extremely happy about this decision to site this facility in our area." He said the economic opportunity can now enable the city to diversify the local economy. He also said the facility will provide the much needed jobs for the area.

Mr. Schenck said the site for the facility is not definite yet but the vendors are presently looking at locations in the city. He said once a site is selected, construction will begin and the project should be complete in 1 1/2 years.

Teen stabbed at School of CHOICE

By Brenda Bunting
Editor

A 17-year-old has been charged in the stabbing of a classmate at the School of CHOICE in Paohokee Tuesday.

The 16-year-old victim was stabbed in the buttocks with a steak knife shortly after classes commenced March 6.

According to John Thomas, an assistant in the public affairs office for the Palm Beach County School Board, the 17-year-old first sprayed the 16-year-old with mace and stabbed him.

Police would not give the names of the boys. The victim was taken by Trauma Hawk to St. Mary's Hospital in West Palm Beach where he received stitches and was then released. The suspect is being held in the detention center in West Palm Beach on charges of aggravated battery, possession of a weapon on school property, and disruption of a school function. According to Mr. Thomas, the boy will also be suspended from school for 10 days.

Mr. Thomas said School of CHOICE uses a hand-held metal detector, to check students for weapons, but usually only if there is a dance or if someone is suspected of carrying a weapon.

Main Street Belle Glade under construction

State Road 15 (Main Street) will be under construction for the next 12 months according to the Florida Department of Transportation.

The $1.9 million project is 2.6 miles long and will extend from the Hillsboro Canal to State Road 80 (Hooker Highway).

Construction began Feb. 27.

Dick Meyer leaving ERMC

By Brenda Bunting
Editor

After two years of being an active force in the Glades, Dick Meyer is leaving the area. A going away party was held Friday, March 3, at Everglades Regional Medical Center, where Mr. Meyer worked as the director of community relations.

He started a new job this week in finance at Capital Bank in Delray Beach. Mr. Meyer said he is sad to leave the many friends he has made in the area, but it was a financial decision he needed to make. He and his wife, Janet, have two boys, Jason and Andy, and a daughter, JoAnna. Hospital Administrator Don Anderson said Mr. Meyer would be difficult to replace. "Dick did a wonderful job of taking Everglades Regional Medical Center to the community," he said.

The Paohokee Chamber of Commerce also honored Mr. Meyer March 2, with a plaque announced yet, it has been agreed that as many local residents as possible will be considered for the jobs that will be available. However, some of the jobs may require special training.

According to the mayor, Vice Mayor John Norman was influential in bringing the first ever city-wide task force together that presented the project to the city's residents. The task force explained the benefits of the youthful offender facility and discussed concerns with the residents and commissioners. The mayor also said Palm Beach County Commissioner Ken Foster was supportive in their pursuit of the facility.

The Glades area was hit drastically when local agribusiness giant South Bay Growers closed this past summer. The closure left approximately 1,300 people jobless in the Western Palm Beach County region of Lake Okeechobee. The Corrections Privatization Commission recently gave contracts to Wackenhut Corrections Corporation to build and operate a correction facilities in Glades County and South Bay.

St. Mary's Hospital in West Palm Beach where he received stitches and was then released. The suspect is being held in the detention center in West Palm Beach on charges of aggravated battery, possession of a weapon on school property, and disruption of a school function. According to Mr. Thomas, the boy will also be suspended from school for 10 days.

Mr. Thomas said School of CHOICE uses a hand-held metal detector, to check students for weapons, but usually only if there is a dance or if someone is suspected of carrying a weapon.

A lane will be closed in either direction through December and the first several months of construction will include adding concrete curbs and permanently closing several openings in the median for left turns both on and from the highway. At other median locations, existing left-turn lanes will be lengthened.

for "his outstanding work in the community and his total involvement in chamber activities and dedication to the purposes of the chamber."

Mr. Meyer was a director from 1993 to 1995. He was also chairman of the "I Love Paohokee" event in 1993 and chaired the Grassy Waters Festival in 1993 and 1994. In addition, he was the facilitator for the Economic Forum and the Planned Approach To Community Health Forum.

Mr. Meyer hosted a weekly radio program on WBGF/FWSW called House Calls.

"Dick was a wonderful friend to the chamber and to Paohokee," said Alice Thompson, chamber executive director. "For the brief time that he was here he accomplished a tremendous task by bringing the community together."

"He worked very hard and was an energetic, positive person you really wanted with him because he was around," she added.

"Blonds" can continue to have fun ... a seven-year study by the American Cancer Society indicates the use of permanent hair dyes does not increase the risk of cancer. The study involved more than a half million women and was conducted between 1982 and 1989. However, prolonged use of BLACK hair dye was tied to two uncommon cancers.

 Those peeled, ready-to-use baby carrots commonly sold in supermarkets are harvested before maturity and may lose some beta carotene along the way. So, while they are a healthy snack, their larger siblings provide a higher nutritional content.

 Attendees at a Wisconsin National Wellness Conference found that low-protein, high-carbohydrate meals induce a calming effect an hour or two after eating, while high protein meals do more to jump start you. Not surprisingly, meals high in fat may cause sluggishness.

Every reform, however necessary, will by weak minds be carried to an excess which will itself need reforming.

The kids helps them understand our weather a little more clearly. In most cases, they have a great time and so do I. Plus, their teacher gets a little break.

One of the questions I always ask the students is which state has the most tornadoes. I almost always get the correct answer (Texas) within a few seconds.

When I ask what state ranks first in thunderstorms, again, the answer (Florida) comes pretty quick. But, when I ask the youngers who's the leader in rip currents all I get are blank stares.

"Rip currents? What's that?", someone usually asks. Rip currents, sometimes called rip tides, have become the most deadly weather-related phenomenon in Florida. In 1994 at American Beach in Nassau County, rip currents claimed five lives.

Those numbers make rip currents in Florida more deadly than hurricanes, tornadoes, severe thunderstorms and lightning combined. We don't hear much about rip currents because the deaths usually occur one at a time. The accidents don't draw the publicity that a larger scale event, like a hurricane or a tornado, receives.

A rip current is a strong surface current of water flowing out past the surf zone that can pull even the strongest swimmer into deep water. Most deaths occur when people caught in the rip current try to swim toward shore directly against the current. Within a few minutes, the swimmer usually becomes totally exhausted and drown.

Rip currents are normally about 10-30 yards wide. You can recognize a rip current in a number of ways. Sometimes the water in a rip current will be discolored. Other times you may notice a foam or seaweed streak extending seaward from the breakers.

We know that certain wind, cola, and 99 percent of diet cola, is WATER! And not water from a sparkling clear steam -- water from the tap. Regular cola is 1 percent preservatives, flavorings, caffeine; 10 percent high fructose corn syrup; 89 percent carbonated water. Diet cola is 1 percent preservatives, aspartame, flavorings, caffeine, and 99 percent carbonated water. A single can of cola contains 9 to 12 teaspoons of sugar, making soft drinks the second biggest source of calories in women's diets. The only consolation is they're fat free!

A study conducted by Metropolitan Life Insurance Company finds that Saturday night is not only the loneliest night of the week, it can be the most dangerous for those who like to walk. One out of five pedestrian deaths occur on Saturdays, with about two-thirds occurring between 6 p.m. Saturday and 3 a.m. Sunday.

Until next time ... stay informed and stay healthy.

Rip tides are more deadly than hurricanes

One of the best things about my job is the opportunity to visit our area schools. During the school year it is not uncommon for me to stop by three classrooms in one week. My all-time record is six schools in a five-day period.

I love talking about the weather with youngsters. Their enthusiasm and natural curiosity boosts my spirits leaving me with a natural high. Hopefully, my time with the kids helps them understand our weather a little more clearly. In most cases, they have a great time and so do I. Plus, their teacher gets a little break.

GFC approves new regulation changes

The Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, meeting in Tallahassee Friday, approved a series of regulation changes affecting Florida's hunters, boaters and alligator farmers. Among the changes is a rule that authorizes use of arrows with non-metal blades for taking deer, hogs and turkeys. Bowhunters have requested the new regulation to enable them to use ceramic and primitive stone arrowheads for taking big game and turkeys. Broadheads used for hunting deer, hogs and turkeys still must have sharpened edges and be at least 7/8 of an inch wide.

Other regulation changes of interest to hunters will allow use of leashed dogs for trailing wounded game on wildlife management areas except where prohibited by specific area regulations and will adjust hunting season dates on wildlife management areas and wildlife and environmental areas to conform with the 1995-96 calendar. Another new regulation repeals the 6-inch airboat identification number requirement. The requirement was inconsistent with the 3-inch requirement in state laws.

The commission also voted to establish 39 management units (sites) where commercial alligator trappers may take alligators during the annual harvest in September; delete skinning instructions from regulations regarding taking and disposal of nuisance alligators; delete skinning instructions, some record keeping requirements and some equipment requirements from alligator farm regulations; create a three member committee to review all turnkey stamp design contest entries and select finalists.

In other business, the commission recognized former Commissioner J. Ben Rowe for his four years of service, retired Division of Fisheries Director Smokey Holcomb for his 31 years of service, and retired Division of Law Enforcement Bureau Chief Maj. Neil Branch for his 27 years of service.

During the commission's workshop session Thursday, commissioners hear a report by turkey program coordinator Larry Perrin concerning fall turkey hunting on wildlife management areas.

Other presentations included a briefing about the 1995 Farm Bill reauthorization, a report on genetic restoration of Florida Panthers and an update about the Wildlife Alert Award Association.

The commission's next meeting is scheduled for May 11-12 in Tallahassee.

INVITES YOU TO SPEAK OUT!
996-6636

To voice your opinion on any subject, call Speak Out at 996-6636, 24 hours a day. Readers can use this special number to pose questions, voice complaints, express opinions or put somebody on the back. Unlike letters to the editor, Speak Out is designed for anonymous expression of opinions. We edit calls for clarity, brevity, relevance and fairness.

Prisoners sleeping on the floors

"I found out something today that I just didn't know what's going on. Maybe this has been going on for quite a while and maybe there are other mothers and interested people who should know."

We have had some of our local prisoners who have been sent to the main jail in West Palm Beach because they have to make some renovations to this jail.

When five of the prisoners got to the main jail in West Palm Beach they were made to sleep on the floor.

Now this I can't understand. Somebody told me it was because they don't have the money to hire the guards to tend to the prisoners. I don't know, but I feel that there are other mothers like me who would like to know that their son, or their daughter, or whoever, are sleeping on the floor. I was told "They're not sleeping on the floor. They have a mattress." I said "Well, sir, is the mattress being put on the ceiling?"

To me, they are sleeping on the floor. And should a prisoner, just because they're in prison, be made to sleep on the floor?"

Traffic light needs looked at

"I'd like to place a complaint. I wish something could be done about the red light on S.R. 715 and Avenue E, Belle Glade."

On my way to work this morning, I sat through three changes, trying to be a law-abiding citizen. If you run the left turn signal, you get a ticket. If you sit there until it changes, you're late for work. Could something please be done?"

Caller can relate

"I read the Speak Out from the caller last week who wanted to know what he could do about people calling him trying to sell him stuff over the telephone. I can relate. I have the same problem."

It seems I no sooner get home from work than the phone is ringing and someone is trying to sell me a subscription to a newspaper I already subscribe to, or wanting me to buy magazines or send money to a charitable organization. And God forbid if you ever say yes. Then they never leave you alone. The only solution I have found is to just cut them short, say "I'm not interested" and hang up before they can keep on talking. Sounds rude, but, hey, enough's enough."

Editor's note: This caller wanted to give their name and address. Please remember, we don't use names in Speak Out. Speak Out is designed for the anonymous expression of comments, praise, concerns, and questions. Also, we received a Speak Out asking how many deputies work for the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Department live outside the county and other questions. A spokesperson with the sheriff's department who works in personnel said it would take almost a month to get the information requested because they are so busy. When, or if, we get that information, we will print the Speak Out and the response. Thank you for Speaking Out.

March 5-11 declared "PTA National Alcohol and Drug Awareness Week"

By Denola Niewisch, EdD, CAP
Director of Treatment Services
CARP, Inc.

Jails! Institutions! Death! This is all the future holds for those whose lives are being destroyed by drugs and alcohol. Chemical dependency is a chronic, progressive, and sometimes fatal disease that negatively affects individuals, families, and the community at large. This disease is treatable with help from agencies like Comprehensive Alcoholism Rehabilitation Programs (CARP), Inc.

CARP is a non-profit organization that cares about the problems in the community. CARP has been serving Western Palm Beach County for 16 years by providing a variety of treatment services for chemically-dependent people and their families, without regard for ability to pay.

March 5-11 has been declared PTA National Alcohol and Drug Awareness Week. CARP would like to remind you that the following services are available at our Belle Glade facility, located at 125 N.W. Second Street: Youth Outreach and Prevention, Assessment, Adolescent Outpatient, Adolescent Residential, Adult Outpatient, and Adult Residential Programs.

If you or someone you know is in need of help, please call (407) 992-1351. Your call can be the first step on the road to recovery and drug-free living.

About letters

To voice your opinion about Glade's issues, or to respond favorably or unfavorably to articles printed in the paper, we encourage you to write us a letter. Send to:

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Working for an agency in Belle Glade for which the public give such praises as I hear everywhere I go, truly makes me as a resident feel so good. It especially makes me feel good to know our staff, consisting of nurses, home health aides, and officer personnel, consists of 31 people who are also Belle Glade, South Bay and Pahokee residents.

Our newspapers and chambers advocate "Spend your money at home." We do! We support our schools, churches, merchants and pay our property taxes. So many agencies come to our town, use our people and take their paychecks elsewhere.

If you do not know who I work for, ask around, the people know. Again, I thank the people who laud us with praises and our report card speaks for itself - A-Plus.

Dear Editor:

I have great concern as to why there was not more coverage on the Rickey Jackson Day held in Pahokee on February 18, 1995. There was no pictures of the parade, which was one of the greatest parades to be held in the City of Pahokee.

Rickey Jackson is our Pahokee hero and I know he should have been recognized as such in our only local newspaper, which we depend upon to publish our news.

Even the article was very closely edited. I am inclined to ask the question, had it been some other city with such a day would it have gotten such limited publicity? Would the parade have gone unpublished by you?

Maybe the parade pictures are coming later (being published). If so, please accept my apology. I always like to give anybody the benefit of the doubt. Maybe your space for pictures and more to be said about Rickey or Rickey's Day was limited. Like I said, if I'm wrong, please accept my apology.

attention to their community. With all the problems in the world at-large and at home, people are primed for a positive change.

In other weeks in this column, I have suggested specific behaviors that individuals or institutions could adopt for their own betterment. This week, I just want to re-emphasize the importance of maintaining explicit interest in your life. The mere presumption that things can be better if you try to improve them, is the basis from which all else derives. The opposite of apathy is achievement. You don't have to be rich, good-looking, or smart to change your life. You just have to want to do it!

I would like to give a public forum to the voices in the Glades. If you have any ideas you would like to share or see implemented in the Glades, please call me at (407) 992-1330, or write to:

All ideas will be presented in this column, and will be discussed at local leadership and planning meetings as well. So call or write and get involved.

AQUATIC PLANT MANAGEMENT ON LAKE OKEECHOBEE IS TOPIC OF PUBLIC MEETING

JACKSONVILLE, FL.—The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Jacksonville District, will hold two public information meetings March 21-22 to address coming-year management activities on Lake Okeechobee. The Corps directs the federally funded aquatic plant management program on the lake.

The March 21 meeting will be held in Belle Glade at the Belle Glade City Hall. On March 22, the meeting will be held in Okeechobee at the Okeechobee Civic Center.

Representatives from the Florida Department of Environmental Protection, the University of Florida's Center for Aquatic Plants, and Florida Game and Freshwater Fish Commission will be present. Representatives from the South Florida Water Management District, which conducts treatment operations under an agreement with the U.S. Corps of Engineers will also attend the meetings.

The Corps will give a presentation on the current status of the aquatic plants and the lake areas scheduled for upcoming treatment.

Problem aquatic plant species infesting the lake areas are hydrilla, water lettuce, and water hyacinth. Severe infestations of these exotic plants can interfere with boating, fishing, navigation, flood control and water quality.

The Corps is cordially invited to attend. Additional information may be obtained by contacting Ron Miedema, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, South Florida Operations Office, 525 Ridgelawn Road, Clewiston, Florida 33440-5399, or call 813-983-8101.

Bald Eagle continues to make comeback in Florida

The bald eagle continues its dramatic comeback in the Sunshine State, soaring to its highest levels in more than two decades. Final figures for 1993-94 show another increase in the number of eagles nesting and mating in Florida.

Researchers know of 951 bald eagles that hatched in Florida during the 1993-94 season. That's an increase of 40 percent over 1992-93, and 171 percent increase over the birth rate just 10 years ago, where 351 eagles were hatched in the state.

In addition, the bald eagle population in Florida is now estimated at a minimum of 2,450, more than any other state except Alaska.

"We are pleased that the eagle is doing as well as it is in Florida and the rest of the Southeast," said Steve Nesbit, a biological administrator for the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission. "I'm a little surprised that it's (the population) still growing. I thought we'd peak out by now, but we seem to find more and more each year. There must be more habitat that we thought out there, or the eagles are able to pack tighter together."

The bald eagle is one of only two remaining eagle species in the United States. The other is the golden eagle, which is found primarily in California and the western states. The bald eagle makes its home in the extreme southern and northern states, plus Canada and Mexico.

Florida continues to support the highest number of breeding bald eagles of any southeastern state. Approximately 70 percent of the nesting territories used by bald eagles in the south were in Florida during 1993. Since 1973, researchers have recorded more than 9,000 hatchings in the state, an average of 409 per year.

The bald eagle has been struggling to recover throughout the United States for the past 50 years. Its population was decimated between the 1940s and the 1970s, mostly due to pesticides such as DDT, which was banned in 1972.

A winner at the Shakespeare Recitation Competition...Alexa Lutz, daughter of Kenneth and Sonja Lutz of Belle Glade, was a winner at the Shakespeare Recitation Competition held Feb. 26 at the Beach Club, Palm Beach. Miss Lutz, a senior at Glades Central Community High School and coached by Sarah Bennett, was one of two finalists who received $50.

PEPPI Head Start receives accreditation

Lutheran Ministries of Florida recently announced that its PEPPPI Head Start Program received accreditation from the National Academy of Early Childhood Programs. The academy recognizes outstanding Early Childhood Programs which meet established national standards of high quality.

PEPPI Head Start is the first Head Start/Preschool Program in the Glades area to receive this honor. The program, located in Belle Glade, provides caring supervision and education along with nutritious, well-balanced meals for over school children ages 3 to 5.

Dr. Marilyn Smith, executive director of the National Association for the Education of Young Children (NAEYC) the nation's oldest and largest association of early childhood professionals, which sponsors the academy said, "Most parents want to find the highest quality program for their young children, however, few parents know how to assess whether a program meets more than just the minimum standards required by state licensing. Accreditation helps answer the question, 'What is a quality preschool program?' PEPPPI Head Start is a shining example of just such a program.

To receive accreditation, PEPPPI Head Start had to meet strict criteria, ranging from having a well-qualified and trained staff to meeting stringent health and safety standards. LMF is proud that PEPPPI Head Start joins over 3,600 pre-school programs nationwide that have received accreditation by the National Academy.

Lutheran Ministries of Florida is a social services agency helping all people in need. Its major efforts include Children's Services, Youth and Family Services, Guardianship, Refugee and Immigration Services, and Disaster Relief. Since its founding in 1982, LMF has helped over 300,000 family members throughout Florida. In addition to the corporate office in Tampa Bay, LMF has five regional offices providing services statewide from Pensacola to Miami.

Belle Glade woman retailing new bras

Women in Belle Glade, Pahokee, Clewiston and South Bay will have an opportunity to examine a new bra that has been called the most perfectly designed bra available.

Earlyne R. Harrell of Belle Glade recently participated in a national meeting in Costa Mesa, Calif. where the Jeuniene Bra was introduced.

Ms. Harrell is a consultant for Jeuniene International, Inc.

which manufactures and distributes a wide range of health and beauty-related products.

The bra is scientifically designed to provide both proper direction and support, the two most critical elements in a bra. Research has shown that 85 percent of all women are wearing the wrong size bra.

According to Ms. Harrell, the Jeuniene Bra will be available in Belle Glade this month.

Severe penalties levied for not paying intangible tax

Individuals, couples and businesses owing intangible tax will come under tough scrutiny next month when

Man awarded Honorable Mention in writing contest

Iliad Press and the National Authors Registry recently announced that William L. Phillips of Belle Glade was awarded Honorable Mention in the competition.

The awards are granted to writers, such as Mr. Phillips, judged to be deserving of special recognition by a panel of independent judges. The Honorable Mention Award goes to only a small fraction of the thousands of people who enter the competition. And, it is from among all of the recipients that the final 100 winners will be chosen. Many of the award recipients will choose to have their winning literary works published in Musings, a new hard-cover collection of poems and essay from around the world.

The poem Mr. Phillips entered was:

*Ode To A Play
It's hard to imagine, the people we know, can go to strange places and put on a show.*

To tell a sad story or maybe a tale, about a love lost or a man in jail.

*How real it all seems while we stare at the stage,
a red-faced woman is killed in a rage.*

Who did it we thought and thought, audience now captive to the end of the plot.

The hero emerges, a lover to his,

If it doesn't end well, the critics will hiss.

And all to soon the climax comes about.

*The maid did it of course,
the butler was out.*

Rash Louis wins four-year, pre-paid scholarship

Rash Louis of Belle Glade has been named in the Florida Lottery Holiday College Dream contest.

Mr. Louis will receive a four-year, pre-paid Florida college tuition contract.

One hundred winners were selected in the contest.

South Bay resident accepted to an Iowa college

Texas G. Moulton of South Bay has been accepted at Iowa Wesleyan College, Mount Pleasant.

Mr. Moulton, who plans to enroll at Wesleyan for Spring 1995 and major in business administration, is the son of Anathene James of South Bay.

Iowa Wesleyan College, affiliated with the United Methodist Church, is a four-year liberal arts college emphasizing community service and an academic curriculum focused on life skills.

alone can climb to 80 percent of the tax due, and 110 percent the next year. In certain cases, the department can assess penalties on intangible taxes owed as far back as 1984.

By contrast, taxpayers can get discounts if they pay the tax early. Taxpayers can shave 4 percent off their tax bill if they pay in February, 3 percent by paying in March, 2 percent in April and 1 percent in May.

Starting in March, DOR will intensify audit efforts using income, dividend and interest information obtained from the Internal Revenue Service, client account information from brokerage firms, and state corporate income tax returns. This information will be cross-matched with DOR records to track down people and businesses who are under-reporting or not paying the intangible tax.

The crackdown is the latest in a series of initiatives designed to identify those who owe intangible tax, Mr. Bodone said. People and businesses have ample warnings to come forward and avoid stiff penalties. In the past two years, the department has collected more than $6 million in additional intangible taxes through the expanded use of IRS and brokerage reports. The latest initiative will mark the first time the department has been able to effectively cross-match brokerage reports with its list of current filers.

In addition, the department is using homestead exemption certificates, voter registration records and driver license records to identify people who claim residency but aren't paying the intangible tax, which is assessed only on Florida residents. The department also is identifying out-of-state residents who fraudulently claim homesteads in Florida to avoid tax liabilities in other states.

Florida is one of the eight states with a tax on intangible property. Florida's intangible tax was enacted in 1931. In fiscal year 1993-94, the department collected about $686 million in intangible taxes. That amounts to about $68 of revenue collected for every dollar spent to administer and enforce the tax.

Mr. Bodone said the department would consider waiving penalties if people and companies owing tax voluntarily come forward. But those who try to avoid payment will be out of luck when the tax collector calls.

"Honest taxpayers are tired of footing the bill for the cheaters who want a free ride," Mr. Bodone said. "We already are getting results from expanded enforcement capabilities."

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Westcarth to renew vows

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Westcarth announce the renewal of their wedding vows on their 30th wedding anniversary.

Mr. Westcarth is a native of the West Indies and a life-long resident of Belle Glade. He is a retired construction worker of 24 years.

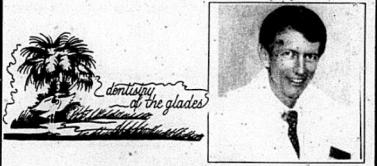

Mrs. Westcarth, a native of Alabama, is also a life-long resident of Belle Glade. She is employed by the Palm Beach County School Board, West Area Transportation.

A ceremony will be held Saturday, March 25, 1995, at 4 p.m. at Greater St. Paul Church of God In Christ, 915 W. Ave. A. Superintendent Clarence Brown is the pastor. A reception will follow at the Belle Glade Municipal Center.

All family and friends are invited to attend.

A man finds he has been wrong at every preceding stage of his career, only to deduce the astonishing conclusion that he is at last entirely right.

—Robert Louis Stevenson

WHAT CAUSES PERIODONTAL DISEASE (Gum Disease) ?

The most common cause is plaque. Plaque is a sticky substance derived from saliva and fluids around the gums which contain bacteria. When the plaque grows on the teeth, the gums swell and may bleed, as a result from poisons produced by the bacteria. If the plaque is not removed, another layer of plaque grows. After so many layers, the plaque becomes hard and bonds on the tooth as calculus (tarter). Tarter cannot be removed by brushing and flossing. If the calculus is not removed routinely, by your dental hygienist, the calculus will grow under the gums and destroy the bone that supports the teeth.

Other causes of periodontal disease include: poor home care, inadequate fillings, or crowns and bridges that accentuate inflammation of the gums. Pregnancy, diabetes, thyroid, and Vitamin C deficiency may contribute to periodontal disease also.

Let us help you control the plaque that causes gum disease - the silent killer of teeth.

We can help you keep your teeth here at
